About Critical Incident Debriefing

Critical Incident Debriefing (CID) is an essential component of 'best practice' and essential to maintaining a commitment to professional development, and the continuous improvement of services. Debriefing critical incidents support both individuals, and organisations to understand processes, unpack incidents, make meaning of practice, and identify areas for future development.

Service Delivery

Critical Incident Debriefing can be facilitated with individuals or groups, and delivered both face-to-face or online. It is essential that CID occurs in a timely manner following incidents and therefore, we are committed to remaining flexible in the service delivery of CID.

Cost

The average cost of CID starts at $80.00 for Individuals and $120.00 for groups.
